

ORPHANS HONOR BISHOP SCANLAN

Nearly 200 Children Take Part in Exercises at Catholic Institution.

A CREDITABLE PROGRAMME

ELEMENT OF PATHOS IN EFFORTS OF LITTLE ONES.

One hundred and eighty-six children, most of them homeless little orphans, gave a simple tribute of their love for the Right Rev. Bishop Laurence Scanlan, their guardian, in the observance of the twentieth anniversary of his ordination as a bishop by their exercises at the Kearns St. Ann's orphanage last evening.

The program marked also the close of the school year at the orphanage. In many respects these losing exercises differed materially from those of many school children. Most of these children had no fond parents to appear at this little entertainment, no indulgent relatives to praise them for their success.

The Touch of Sorrow.

There was an element of pathos in the efforts of these little boys and girls. Each little life has had its tragedy. A long time ago a good man from Nazareth, as he sat on a hill in Palestine, said, "Suffer the little children to come unto me." The same divine love for the little ones that prompted this utterance seems to prevail among the gentle sisters under whose guidance misfortune has brought these children.

That this misfortune has been changed to good fortune was evidenced by the atmosphere of the orphanage last evening when the children made their bow to the public. Their exercises were original and quaint. They were planned entirely by the pupils of the institution.

Little Edith McCallum, staid and solemn as any orator who ever graced a forum, gave the address of welcome. She was followed by choruses of the little girls and little boys. "Up, Up in the Sky" was sung by the little girls and "We Are a Merry Set of Boys" by the little boys.

Tiny Girls as Teachers.

A novel feature of the program was the examination of the different classes in geography, arithmetic, composition, writing and stenography. Each class had one of the pupils as teacher. Wee Cecelia Whelan was the teacher for the tiny children. She assigned the work, and in deportment and bearing was every inch a teacher. The examination of the third and fourth grades was made by Hazel Butts, and that of the fifth, sixth and seventh grades by Bessie McNulty.

The tiny girls gave a "Sweep, Sweep" song and drill that brought much applause. Each little girl had a decorated broom, and the ensemble was very pretty. "Columbia, Beloved Land," was the title of a chorus and tableau by the largest class.

Rev. Father Ryan dictated a letter to the stenography class, no member of which is over 13 years old. The letter was written with accuracy and dispatch and transferred on the typewriter. At the close of the exercises the Right Rev. Bishop Laurence Scanlan bestowed the medals on the pupils showing the greatest efficiency during the year.

The gold medal was given to Bishop Scanlan for Christian doctrine was won by Edith McCallum. The Patrick Phelan gold medal for good conduct was awarded to Mary Giacomo. Bessie McNulty won the medal for general improvement given by the Very Rev. Dean Harris. The medal for the best pupil in the stenography class, donated by Rev. Father William K. Ryan, was won by Sylvester Mitchell. Irene Pergerson, who had the medal donated by Stephen Lavin for improvement in music.

Bishop Scanlan Talks to Children.

Following the bestowing of the medals Bishop Scanlan made a short talk to the boys and girls of the institution. He told them to look forward to going out into the world to make their own living, and said that they must continue to work diligently with this prospect in view.

The children asked that Father Ryan talk to them. After much urging he made a few remarks indicative of the pleasant nature of his association with the little ones. In behalf of the institution the Very Rev. Dean Harris, chaplain of the Kearns St. Ann's orphanage, paid a glowing tribute to the work of Bishop Scanlan. Dean Harris is from Montreal, Canada, and for the past four months has been assigned to the diocese of Salt Lake. He has traveled extensively in all parts of the world in connection with his religious duties, but said last night that he had never seen a better institution of its kind than the Kearns St. Ann's orphanage. This fact he attributed entirely to the work of Bishop Scanlan.

FOREIGNERS ARE ON THE WARPATH

Three Fights and a Little Gun Play Charged to Belligerent Aliens.

TWO MEN ARE IN HOSPITAL

WOMAN IS ACCUSED OF BITING, SCRATCHING AND KICKING.

Three fights resulted from an unusually riotous spirit on the part of the foreign element in Salt Lake yesterday.

Early in the evening at the National Bar, 302 West Second South street, Frank Maghareh, a Greek, is accused of attacking Toni Cropea, another of that nationality, with a revolver. According to the story of the bartender, Cropea was in the saloon drinking when Maghareh came in for a 10-cent can of beer. They left the saloon and went into an alley back of it and began fighting.

Two shots were fired, then Cropea ran into the saloon from the rear entrance, with the other Greek following him. Just as they reached the swinging doors Maghareh struck Cropea on the head with the butt of the gun. Maghareh disappeared and the wounded man was taken to St. Mark's hospital, where he was attended by Police Surgeon Samuel G. Paul. Dr. Paul did not find any evidence of the bullet wound, but there was a bad cut on the scalp. He said that the wound would not prove serious unless the skull was fractured.

In the afternoon two Italian women settled differences caused by their children throwing rocks at each other in Jones avenue, near First South, between Fifth and Sixth West streets. It is said that a woman named Rossi savagely attacked Mrs. Annie Betuzzi, and the husband of the latter has sworn that a complaint charging her with assault and battery. Complainant says the woman bit his wife several times on the shoulder, besides kicking and scratching her.

Pete Karpusos was put in county jail yesterday and charged with assault and battery. He is charged with striking John Saper, another Greek, who is now in the hospital. The injured man will recover. They had a quarrel at Garfield yesterday and began to strike each other with clubs. They were arrested by Deputy Sheriff J. D. Brown.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Joe Siegel leaves for New York July 4. The Misses Wings of Martin, Tenn., are stopping at the Windsor.

Miss Julia A. Morgan has gone to Blackfoot to spend a few weeks. Miss Nora Reese and Miss Myrtle Reese left last night for Los Angeles to be gone a month.

Mrs. E. B. Robinson and son of Talladega, Ala., are in the city en route to Los Angeles and Seattle.

Mrs. B. F. Grimes has returned to her home in Butte, after a two weeks' visit to her mother, Mrs. M. Stevenson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Barnes celebrated their tin wedding on Monday evening last by entertaining about thirty of their friends.

Mrs. VanEvery and daughter, Florence, of Denver, who were here to attend the Cameron-Boes wedding, left for their home last Tuesday.

At the home of L. George Cracraft, the Henty literary society celebrated the sixth anniversary of its organization. A series of interesting games and puzzles were played. T. George Wood won the prizes. An elegant supper was served.

A very interesting feature of the organ recital given by J. J. McCallum at the cathedral yesterday afternoon was the vocal solo rendered by Harry J. Graham, "Fear not for me, Israel." Mr. Graham is the general manager of the bank of Chicago, and this was his first visit to Salt Lake City. Mr. McCallum's accompaniment on the organ was excellent. Mr. Graham said that his attention was more than half given to the work of the organist, but he nevertheless acquitted himself with much credit and with little less artistic finish than when he used to devote his time to music instead of railroad.

HOT TIME IN YUMA.

Saturday's Record 114 Degrees—Salt Lake Comfortable With 78.

It was hot in Yuma! The thermometer showed 114 degrees. In Phoenix it was 110 and in El Paso 100. Abilene showed 96, Dodge City 92, Grand Junction 84, Independence 82, Utah's own Modena 80, Bismarck 80, Galveston 80. Some of the cities in the east were given relief from the excessive heat. Chicago, for example, marked only 70. New York was comfortable at 82. An ice train passed through Redwood and brought a low temperature down to 46, and the same train did likewise for Lander. Those were the coolest towns in the United States yesterday.

There is every reason to believe that the north Pacific high pressure will cause generally fair weather in this vicinity today. The maximum temperature in this region yesterday was 78 degrees, the minimum was 65.

The clergy present at the exercises were the Right Rev. Laurence Scanlan, Very Rev. Dean Harris, Rev. Father Kieley, Ryan and Monticchio.

LOCAL BRIEFS

COSGRIFP ENTERTAINS.—County employees and their families were treated to an outing at Lagoon yesterday by J. B. Cosgriff, county commissioner.

LEAVE FOR THE EAST.—Judge Willis Brown left last evening for the east to fill Chautauqua lecture dates. Probation Officer Charles Hahn accompanied Judge Brown. He will go to the Boys' camp at Winona, Ind.

BANK REPORTS DUE.—Charles S. Tingey, secretary of state, has sent out statements to all banking corporations in the state, asking for a report of the condition of the various banks at the close of business, June 25, 1907. The fee of the secretary's office is $5 in each instance.

WRONG BRIDEGROOM NAMED.—In the marriage license list in Thursday morning's Herald, the license of Ralph J. Birch and Hattie Nelson was recorded. It appears that the groom's name is Ralph J. Bellet, and not Birch, and that the error was caused in transcribing the name.

DEDICATE BAND STAND.—The new band stand at Liberty park will be dedicated this afternoon. Special music will be furnished by Held's band, and city officials will be present to add dignity to the occasion. The new stand cost $250, and is said to be one of the finest of its kind in the intermountain country.

DIAMOND PIN RETURNED.—Mrs. Grace Hill of Ogden, who lost a $100 diamond pin on the streets of this city a few days ago, had it returned to her yesterday by an old man named Lincoln. He had picked it up on the street and, on hearing the account of its loss he took it to the Wilson, where Mrs. Hill is stopping. He was given a reward of $25.

TIES OF THREATS.—J. H. Johnson, 735 East First South street, was arrested yesterday on complaint of his wife, who said the police had taken a greater part of the time and frequently mistreated his wife, according to her statements.

NEW PHONE DIRECTORY.—More than 2000 copies of the July 1 issue of the Salt Lake-Utah directory of the Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company will be ready for delivery before the middle of the week. By increasing the size of the pages and modifying the binding, the company has been able to place index letters on the pages and to produce a directory that will be found much more convenient than the older one.

CAR IS DERAILED.—Waterloo car No. 32 was derailed at 9 o'clock last night by a tie that had been placed across the track on Fifth South street between State and Second East streets. Ties had been placed across the tracks at other times during the evening, but the motemen saw them in time to save the car from being derailed. The car was derailed at the place in a dark place, where it was not easily seen. No one was hurt, and little damage was done. The police believe that the work was done by vandals.

LYNN'S QUICK CHANGE.

Serves as Special Officer Shortly After Being Arrested.

Louis Lynn, president of the district council of the I. O. E. W., and the leader of the telephone linemen in their strike, was placed under arrest yesterday morning on a charge of assault and battery. Patrolman Kast made the arrest. Ralph Moore is the complainant. It is charged that Lynn knocked Moore down three times, cutting his head and ear. Lynn was let out on $500 bond.

SIXTEEN AUTOS RACE FOR CUPS

Hill-Climbing Contest Is Run Off Without Serious Accident.

NEWHOUSE HAS BEST CAR

J. S. BRANSFORD'S MACHINE TAKES THREE CUPS.

The automobile hill-climbing contest proved an attraction yesterday for hundreds who lined the course from Seventh East and South Temple street to the finish a mile and a half away. But sixteen of the fifty-six entries responded to the starter's signal, and several of the events had but two starters. Samuel Newhouse's Packard runabout was undoubtedly the fastest machine upon the course, taking the steep climb easily, and scoring the first and second fastest times of the day, besides taking two cups. In the sixth race for the Jacobsen cup, Mr. Newhouse rode in his car with Bert Fuller, his chauffeur. His time was 10 seconds faster than S. Sharrman's Reo, and captured the cup. The Newhouse trophy in the free-for-all race was won by the donor, Fuller, clipping seven seconds off his previous record. J. S. Bransford won three cups, including his own contribution, with a single car.

No injuries marked the races, due probably to the crowd and some of the crowds, which remained at a respectful distance from the course. In many instances the city policemen and the temporary guards were too much interested in the races to watch the crowds, and several accidents were narrowly averted. At the hill, the crowds were allowed to line both sides of the embankment, and had any of the drivers lost control while making the climb fatalities could have occurred. The costly work of the city authorities in order to smooth the course was noticeable. For several days the city has been grading and scraping Brigham street from the point where the pavement stops to the hill, and it was smooth enough for the racers yesterday.

Expecting to see fifty-six cars skidding and whizzing along the course, many of the crowd became impatient at the long delay between cars and left before the races were over. The officials of the meet, however, did their work well, and little or no complaint was heard from the contestants. Several cars were derailed at the hill, but no accidents of a serious nature were reported.

The races were scheduled to begin at 2 o'clock, but it was much later when Starter Frank Gardner sent the first machine on its way. Wallace Bransford was referee of the meet, and had with him as judges, Frank Knox, W. S. McCormick, Thomas Kearns, Samuel Newhouse, Brigham H. Roberts, Orson Keith and Windsor V. Ford.

Nine trophies were offered for the different classes. All races were made against time. In the first, third and eighth races but two contestants appeared. Most of the applause given was accorded the Newhouse car during its test trials and during the races. Bert Fuller seemed to have the car under good control at all times, and with the machine was able to take the hill and its turns easily.

The results:

First race—"Bob" Nicholl cup, for runabouts costing $1,000 and under: H. D. Niles, Ford runabout (Shirk). Time—2:55. E. R. Wheeler, Ford.

Second race, Henry Catrow cup, touring cars costing $5,000 or under: L. E. Riter, Jr., Pope-Hartford (L. S. Moore). Time—2:23 1/2. Tom Botterill, Pope-Hartford (P. J. Moran). Time—2:53. H. Tyree, Pierce Great Arrow (H. E. Vail). Time—3:04. Tony Jacobson, Winston (King). Time—3:13 2/5. P. J. Moran, Pierce Great Arrow (Savage). Time—3:58.

Third race, John Bransford cup, touring cars costing $1,500 and under: J. S. Bransford, Tourist (McGuage). Time—2:54 1/5. S. Sharrman, Reo (Elliott). Time—3:55 4/5.

Fourth race, touring cars costing $2,000 and under, M. H. Walker cup: J. S. Bransford, Tourist (McGuage). Time—2:48 3/5. W. N. Williams, Kissel (Everidge). Time—3:27 1/5. S. Sharrman, Reo (Elliott). Time—3:42.

Fifth race, Wallace Bransford cup, touring cars costing $3,000 and under: L. E. Riter, Jr., Pope-Hartford (L. S. Moore). Time—2:30 1/5. C. W. Freed, Wayne (E. Freed). Time—2:51 1/5. T. Botterill, Pope-Hartford (P. Botterill). Time—2:58.

Sixth race, Tony Jacobson cup, stripped touring cars costing $5,000 and under: Samuel Newhouse, Packard runabout (Bert Fuller). Time—2:07. Keith Clarke, Pope-Hartford (Kearns). Time—2:17. Ray Walker, Pope-Toledo (H. E. Vail). Time—3:13 3/5.

Seventh race, Don Porter cup, stripped touring or runabouts costing $1,500 and under: J. S. Bransford, Tourist (McGuage). Time—2:33 3/5. S. Sharrman, Reo (Elliott). Time—3:22 1/5. C. P. Pye, Reo (Pye). Time—3:27 2/5.

Eighth race, Telegram cup, stripped cars costing $3,000 or under: Keith Clarke, Pope-Hartford (Kearns). Time—2:19 4/5. George T. Odell, Knox-Waterless (Lippey). Time—3:06.

Ninth race, Newhouse trophy, free-for-all class: Samuel Newhouse, Packard runabout (Fuller). Time—2:00 1/5. Keith Clarke, Pope-Hartford (Kearns). Time—2:09 3/5. P. J. Moran, Pierce Great Arrow (Savage). Time—2:22.

Much adverse comment was caused by the failure of the program to identify the different machines or to know what race was going on. Conditions for the race were ideal, the weather being almost perfect and the course in good condition.

DRIVEN FROM BAKERY.

Landis Sues His Partners With Unpronounceable Names.

Alleging that his partners, Peter Kankaris and Agnol Kessaris, drove him from their bakery in the Newhouse Copper Plant subdivision, and refused to allow him access to the shop or participate in the profits, Harry Landis has commenced a suit against them in the district court for an accounting and the appointment of a receiver.

According to the complaint, the parties formed a verbal agreement to conduct the business Jan. 26, 1907. Apparently everything ran smoothly until June 18, 1907, when it was asserted that Peter drove the plaintiff out.

HOUSE STRAYS FROM OWNER

Annie Butcher Sues for Home Which Moved Away While She Slept—Blames Relatives.

The larceny of a house is the charge made against Polly Matthews, Samuel Butcher, Isaac Butcher, George Butcher and Joseph Butcher in a suit filed yesterday in the district court by Annie Butcher.

The house was a one-story frame affair, and, according to the plaintiff's assertions, was located on her premises, lot 20, block 2, Linden Park No. 2. At least it was there Saturday evening, June 8, when she retired.

When she awoke Sunday she found that the house had changed locations and was resting quietly on a lot belonging to Polly Matthews. The complaint does not state whether she accompanied the house in its midnight wandering or whether she was sleeping in another and yet unmoved dwelling.

The moving was done Sunday. It is asserted, in order to prevent her from securing any immediate redress from the courts in the form of an injunction.

The amount of damages asked is $200 and costs. The defendants will be allowed to keep the house.
